Start parking

When you are parked you use the app to choose your current car park. You can let the app check your present position via GPS, or select your car park from a list. Then you receive information about the car park, for example current rates. After that you choose which car you want to park by entering the registration number and thereby start your parking.

You do not have to know in advance how long you are going to be parked for. You simply end your parking when you return to your vehicle. However, there is always an automatic stop time that you can adjust. This is a safety feature in case you forget to end your parking. In that case your parking automatically ends at the stop time.

Stop parking

When you return to your car you use the app to end your parking. You immediately see the exact cost of the time you were parked.

Pay by SMS

Send a text message when you arrive at a car park to start your parking and then send a new text message to stop your parking when you leave. You pay for the actual parking time and you do not need to create an account in advance.
